Faith Used As Topic By Minister

The "Obedience of Faith" was the sermon topic of visiting evangelist David H. Bobo of Indianapolis, Indiana, at the Seventh and Poplar church of Christ last night. Taking as his text the first and last sentences of the book of Romans, he pointed out that this book has been universally recognized as the prime source of the doctrine of faith and justification by faith. He pointed out from his text that the thing Paul was calling for and which Paul said that God was planning for was not primarily the possession of faith, but the "obedience of faith." There are many kinds of obedience, Bobo said, such as the obedience of fear, of popular custom, etc., but that the apostle Paul is promoting one kind of obedience, that of obedience of faith.

The obedience of faith, it was pointed out, is both subjective and objective. Subjectively faith becomes the dynamic principle which prompts one to the action of obedience, and objectively the faith delivered over for all to the saints (Judge 3), that is the revealed will of God in Christ, becomes the object and standard of obedience. Both of these are comprehended in the obedience of faith taught by Paul, Bobo said.

Appearing next to the 6th Chapter of Romans, the evangelist declared that the obedience of faith finds its supreme and all-embracing expression in the act of baptism. The primary faith of the gospel, and the distinctive faith of the Christian religion is faith in the death, burial and resurrection of our Lord (1 Cor. 15:1-3).

But in Romans 6, Bobo said, man's obedience takes the form of that cardinal faith. Man dies to the old life of sin as described in Romans 6:1-5 and is raised to walk a new life. Since this act mentioned in Romans 6 centers man's whole life, past and future, and since it springs from faith and to faith, it is the supreme act of the "obedience of faith," as the preacher declared it. And so he concluded, there is no true obedience without faith, and not true faith without obedience.

At the 7:30 p.m. service in the Seventh and Poplar church of Christ building tonight, Bobo will use as his sermon topic "The Church Christ Built."

The following were nominated and duly elected as directors: Wayne Myers, Pottertown; Mrs. Eva Curd, Hazel; Mrs. Charlie Stubblefield, Concord; Mrs. Orville Culver, Dexter; Mrs. Stark Erwin, South Pleasant Grove; Fleetwood Crouch, Lynn Grove; Harvey Ellis, Kirksey; Zelma Carter, Murray; Howard McNeely, Murray; Holmes Ellis, Murray; Mrs. W. J. Gibson, Murray.

The local chapter is ready to give active service to the community.

Turkey Gives Russia Some Bad News As Stand Taken

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Turkey is giving Soviet Russia some of the worst news it has had since the North Atlantic Treaty was signed.

It has suddenly emerged as the corner stone of the entire Allied defensive set-up in the Middle East against Communist aggression.

Turkey decided after World War II, in which it was neutral until the last few months, to throw in its lot with the West.

It signed a military aid pact with the United States in 1947. It joined the North Atlantic Treaty organization in 1952.

In the last few weeks Turkey has dramatically increased its importance in the Allied defensive line which extends from Arctic Norway to Pakistan at the western end of the Himalaya Mountains.

First Turkey signed a mutual aid pact with Pakistan, Russia protested vainly.

Now Turkey is preparing to enter a military alliance with its old enemies Greece and Yugoslavia.

U.S. Military Aid
And as the result of the visit of Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menderes to this country, United States military aid to Turkey is to be practically doubled during the fiscal year which starts July 1. Menderes is the key man in these developments.

Under the Turkish system of government, the prime minister is the chief executive. The position of President Celal Bayar corresponds to that of the president of France or Italy. Menderes' position corresponds to that of President Eisenhower or of Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Menderes is just winding up the business visit to this country which resulted in stepped-up arms aid. His visit was a social and a business success.

Speaks English Well
Menderes is 55. He is a stocky, pleasant-faced, low-voiced man with a heavy head of hair which he wears in a straight-back pompadour.

Menderes prefers to make his speeches in Turkish. But he speaks English well and interrupts interpreters who translate his speeches into English to make corrections.

Menderes' work as a civic leader took him into national politics. He has been a member of parliament since 1930 and was a co-founder with President Bayar of the Democratic Party.

He has stressed, during his visit, his belief that the world is in danger of believing mistakenly that the Communist menace is lessening. He has emphasized that Turkey is in full agreement with the United States on foreign policy. He has implied very strongly that Turkey would favor intervention in Indochina if it became necessary. He spoke strongly in favor of the kind of alliances into which Turkey has entered. He also believes in world conferences—so long as they are not permitted to turn into Munich stardrums. He has expressed hope that Turkey may enter alliances with its neighbor Iraq, and with Pakistan's neighbor. He hopes also that Italy will enter the Turkish-Greek-Yugoslav alliance.

Murderer Of Wife Will Die Tonight At Midnight

BALTIMORE, Md., June 10, (AP)—A New York businessman who committed the "almost perfect" murder of his wife in a fake auto accident spent his last hours calmly today waiting to die on the gallows shortly after midnight.

Prison officials said G. Edward Grammer, 37, was convicted of killing his wife in 1952 for the love of a pretty United Nations employee. The victim was found in the wreckage of an automobile at the foot of a steep hill.

Police became suspicious when they discovered a pebble lodged under the accelerator and a medical examination disclosed that she received head wounds which could not have occurred in the wreck.

Maryland authorities are now investigating in the southern part of the state another case that bears a striking resemblance to Mrs. Grammer's murder.

The body of Louis A. Hicks, 34, a crippled war veteran, was found recently at La Plata in a wrecked car. As in the Grammer case, police at first believed the death was an accident.

But suspects related got authorities to reopen the case and Hicks' body was exhumed from the Arlington, Va., National Cemetery. The throttle of his car was discovered to have been taped open, leading police to believe he was killed before the auto crash.

LAFAYETTE STAR

Cigarette Sales Drop This Year

WASHINGTON, June 10, (AP)—The Agriculture Department has estimated that cigarette sales dropped 4 1/2 percent this year. It said it does not know if fears of lung cancer had anything to do with the decline.

The department estimated Americans will smoke a total of 416 billion cigarettes in the fiscal year that ends the last of this month.

It said "it may be" that smokers who switch to king size brands, which contain about 17 per cent more tobacco than regular sizes, smoke slightly fewer cigarettes daily.

The estimate and observations were made Wednesday night in a report on the tobacco situation by the Agricultural Marketing Service. They were based on factory tax stamp removals for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Charles Novis Pate Fined $200, Gets Jail Sentence

Charles Novis Pate was fined $200 in Callaway Quarterly Court this morning after pleading guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol. He was also convicted of gross carelessness and reckless driving. He was given a sentence of 30 days in the county jail and his driver's license was revoked.

The trial grew out of an accident in which, police said, Pate ran into Will E. Rogers, son of Ed Rogers of Murray Route Four, last night about 7:00 p.m. The accident occurred about 7:00 p.m. on the Hazel Highway, about one half mile south of Murray.

Miss Jeanette Miller, who was Rogers' companion received cuts about the face and was hospitalized. She is expected to be dismissed today.

None of the other participants were injured.

T. Waldrop To Head Legion Post

H. T. Waldrop was reelected as Commander of American Legion Post 73 at their regular meeting this evening.

The new term of office will begin on July 1.

The election was held at the Post's meeting hall on South Sixth Street.

Waldrop was the first World War I veteran to command the post since 1946, when the trend nationally was to turn over the higher offices to World War II veterans.

Colonel Charles H. Farris, U.S. Army, Retired, was elected Adjutant. Col. Farris is a native of New Concord and happy to be back at Calloway County after serving his country through two wars. Col. Farris went through an Officer's Candidate School of the first war to be commissioned in the Infantry. He chose the Army as a career and his time ran into 34 years because of World War II.

The Colonel, like most other soldiers who have been there, is reluctant to give out much information about himself except that he was an Infantry soldier who finished the Command General Staff School and also served in the branch of the Provost Marshall's Office.

He has been a loyal Legionnaire many years and immediately became active with the Murray Post upon his return home. Post members expressed thoughts that the organization was fortunate to bring a man with Colonel Farris' experience into the important office of Adjutant.

Other officers elected were Rubin James, Vice Commander; Robert Young, Finance Officer; Buel Stalk, Post Chaplain; and Floyd Jewell, Sergeant-at-Arms. James Lassiter was given the office of Service Officer.

The Murray Post has increased 1954 membership over 25% under Commander Waldrop's past term.

He was asked about a statement recently by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, that the dangers facing the United States today are greater than ever before.

Mr. Eisenhower said he did not like to use such terms because danger is a comparative situation.

But he added that he thinks the question before the country today is a situation.

He said the answer is inescapably yes.

Tension Might Be Long
Under latest questioning he said the United States and other free nations might be faced for 40 years with international tension caused by Soviet Russia.

To counter the steady threat to world security, he said the United States must maintain a highly mobile defense force, centrally located and ready to move in event of major conflict.

He said more than anything he feared an inclination on the part of the Soviet Union to start a world war.

President Not Planning On Asking Standby Authority

By DAYTON MOORE

WASHINGTON, June 10, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he has no plan now to ask Congress for an authority to intervene in Indochina.

But he added at his weekly news conference, that the United States is in a truly serious situation as far as the Communist world threat is concerned.

The President went on to say, however, that he thinks his military budget is now large enough.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked whether he thought it would be feasible to ask Congress, before it adjourns, to vote him standby authority to intervene in Indochina if he deems intervention necessary.

He replied that he has no such plan at this moment. He said any such thing would have to come up at the crest of some crisis. He again gave assurance that he would ask Congress for authority before committing U. S. forces in Indochina.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked for comment on a recent statement by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, that post dangers facing the United States have been trivial compared to the present world situation.

In Serious Situation
Mr. Eisenhower said he does not like to make flat comparisons in such matters. But he said he does believe we are in a truly serious situation.

He said the Iron Curtain countries have achieved great unification through use of force threats, corruption, bribery, propaganda, and the knife in the back. Such methods, he said, have enabled the Reds to pick their objectives and strike when they want to whereas the non-aggressive free world has to be strong everywhere to defend it against possible Red aggression.

In a philosophic mood about the situation, Mr. Eisenhower agreed that the dangers facing the United States today are greater than those any other time in the history of the country.

Tornado Kills Three In Midwest

By UNITED PRESS, June 10 — A tornado and storm killed three persons in the Midwest and a warning of possibly more twisters in Iowa was issued today.

The Chicago weather bureau said there was a possibility of an isolated tornado in the area along and 30 miles southeast of a line from Des Moines to Waterloo.

A blanket of hot, sticky air settled over the nation's Southeast, the Southern and Central Plains and most of the Great Lakes region.

The tornado struck farm lands four miles south of Rockwell City, Iowa, shortly before midnight, killing 23-year-old William Nicholson.

Calhoun County Sheriff George Dohike said the twister cut a 200-yard swath of destruction across Nicholson's farm, leveling the house, barn and corn crib.

Dohike said first reports indicated no other serious damage in the area.

Two 11-year-old boys, Dennis Leland and Donald Feld, were killed by lightning as a violent rain storm swept Milwaukee, Wis. Rain came down in sheets and caused $100,000 damage to the Kearney and Trecker Corporation plant when water poured in from the flooded streets.

Heavy rains pounded the Iowa cities of Webster City, Ames and Jewell early today, flooding a railroad bridge near Jewell.

Six inches of rain, accompanied by hail, poured down during a four hour period on Groom in the Texas Panhandle. Flash floods temporarily blocked some highways and some Groom residents were evacuated. The hail beat down ripening wheat in an area 25 miles long and 15 miles wide.

Despite the muggy weather to the East, there was an inch of snow on the ground at Austin, Nev. A Colorado developing storm center kicked up blowing dust.

MIDWAY MOTORS

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A fighter who thinks too much and one whose desire is "never to be known as a bum," go at it in Madison Square Garden Friday night in what should be a pretty fair struggle.

The former is Joey Giardello, a young Philadelphian who blames his last defeat on being "mentally depressed." The latter is Bobby Jones, a clouting commuter born in Louisiana, raised in Texas and who fights out of California.

This is the fight you will recall for which Jones allegedly was offered a $15,000 bribe to demonstrate his high diving ability.

Giardello regarded the bribe offer as an insult to his own proficiency. In this he is upheld by the odds-makers, who apparently do not believe that Jones could knock him out with a hatchet in each hand, for they have installed Jones as a 2 to 1 favorite.

Far From Certain
Still it is far from the sure thing which certain gentlemen without sporting instincts tried to make it. The 28 year old Jones may not be the greatest puncher in the world, or even one of the greatest in his native Oculous, Lou, but he is a tough man on whom to lower the curtains and he is a fine boxer. Bob's record is nothing to give middleweight champion Bobo Olson the jitters, for he has won only 37 of 64 bouts, losing 19 and earning eight draws. Only five of his victories have been by knock-outs, which is considerably over par for the course. Yet he may be described as a late comer.

He had at one time, difficulty getting bouts. Thus he had to fight heavier men. On one occasion he spotted Olson 12 pounds and contends even now he won the decision which went against him.

He also gave away poundage in losses to Willie Troy and Johnny Britton. But he started moving up when he beat Gil Turner and then in a rematch, flattened the Philadelphian.

Wants Shot At Olson
Naturally he wants to get a shot at Olson's title. But it is rather startling to hear him say that above all "I don't want people to think I'm a clinching bum."

He is in danger of being a horizontal one come Friday night, however, because the bombing Giardello is very annoyed at himself. Jones and the world in general.

Joey was in line for a shot at Olson's crown this year after he won five in a row, including knock-outs over Garth Panter, Walter Cartier and Willie Troy. When he didn't get a title bout, he insisted he became moody and "down in the dumps." That was why he lost in an upset to Pierre Langlois last year, he argues.

His record gives him a statistical edge over Jones. Joey has won 49 of 65 bouts, with 11 losses and five draws. He also has chalked up 17 knock-outs.

Dodgers Wonder If New Terrors In Store For Them

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

The deflated Dodgers wondered if still new terrors were in store for them today in St. Louis, where first they were brought back to earth by "The Man" and "The Moon," then mauled out of their undisputed hold on first place by "The Kitten."

It amounted to two-way mayhem. Harvey Haddix, the little fellow they call "Kitten," took over Wednesday night and slugged the Dodgers with a three hit, 3-0 shut out that gave him his sixth victory and his seventh in a row.

The Giants moved into a first place tie with the Dodgers at Milwaukee on Johnny Antonelli's 4-0, seven hit win over his old Brave team mates. The National League race was tightened all the way as third place Philadelphia moved to within two games of the top with a 4-0 victory at Chicago and the fifth place Cards, who are 4 1/2 games out of the lead, moved to within half a game of fourth place Milwaukee. Cincinnati, only 5 1/2 games out in sixth place, kept pace with a 4-3 triumph over Cincinnati.

Chicago Stays On Top
In the American, Chicago stayed on top by a game with a victory over the Yankees. Cleveland was right behind with a 1-0 five hit triumph by Mike Garcia over Washington. The Yankees stayed 4 1/2 games behind in third by beating Detroit, 5-1, and Boston edged Baltimore, 7-6.

The Dodgers had a 10 game winning streak when Stan The Man Musial and Wally Moon cracked them up by batting in four runs apiece in a 10-3 victory. Haddix followed through by winning his seventh game in a row, and becoming the first lefty to beat the Dodgers this season. Ray Jablonksi set the hitting pace this time, taking over the N. L. batting lead at .387, two points ahead of Musial.

Antonelli turned in his third shut out and half-century victory over his old Milwaukee mates. It was his eighth victory. Lefty ace Warren Spahn was charged with his fifth loss.

The Phils Get Shutout
The Phils breezed to a shutout victory behind Murry Dickson at Chicago as Gran Hammer set the hitting pace with a triple double, single and walk. In the second game when the Phils made 19 hits Willie Jones hit two home runs and Hammer, Stan Lopis and Bob Morgan hit homers. In the nightcap, Joe Garagiola and Bill Sereno hit homers for Chicago.

Cincinnati chased in on two homers by Gus Bell and one each by winning pitcher Joe Nuxhall and Jim Greengrass for its uphill triumph. Greengrass broke it up in the ninth with his homer after going "0 for 26" at bat.

Bob Porterfield had a no-hitter for Washington until Vic Wertz singled in the seventh and he came on to score the only run on a single by Dave Philley and an error on a grounder by third baseman Ed Vost. Cleveland made only four hits.

Keegan's Sixth In Row
Keegan kept Chicago on top with his sixth straight victory and No. 7 in a row for the White Sox. He was touched for 11 hits, but only two earned runs. Homers by Al Carraquel with two on, Johnny Groth with one on and Sherman Lollar with the bases empty gave Chicago six of its runs.

Tom Morgan, relieved Whitey Ford in the second and pitched four hit ball the rest of the way for the Yankees. The big blow was a three run double by Yogi Berra. Eddie Robinson hit a homer.

The Red Sox won from Baltimore when catcher Sammy White tripled to score the winning run in the ninth at Boston.

ROME CELEBRATES ITS LIBERATION

THESE BIG TANKS, part of American military aid, take a leading role in the parade in Rome that commemorated the tenth anniversary of the Italian capital's liberation by the United States 5th Army. The ultra-modern fighting machines contrast strongly with the ancient colosseum in right background. (International Radiophoto)

MCCARTHY BIDS SYMINGTON QUIT

SEN. JOSEPH R. MCCARTHY (right) demanded that Sen. W. Stuart Symington (left) disqualify himself to sit as a "judge" in the McCarthy-Army hearings in Washington. Symington promptly rejected the demand, accusing McCarthy of making a diversionary "disturbance" and said he aided Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens because he knew that McCarthy was damaging the morale of the nation's armed forces. This development occurred when transcriptions of monitored phone calls between Symington and Stevens were read into the record.

4-H CLUB

ACTIVITIES

By T. HATFIELD
 Assistant County Agent

Some of the 4-H boys who seldom come in the office have been in this week, after the rains. Apparently most were happy—whether it was because the ground was too wet to work, or because they had a chance to come to town, it's hard to say. I'm pretty sure their joy was not over the rain, because the rain was needed; especially the second one. We have no control over the weather, so these boys aren't necessarily lazy just because they're happy over not being able to work. It just happens that way. The ones I've seen lately deserve a little rest occasionally, anyway. (I hope I'm not sticking my neck out too far with their dad.) I saw two hard workers Wednesday a.m. who had been resetting tobacco until the rain came. They were Charles Lynn and Jerry Thomas Parker of Kirksey. I didn't get to talking to the boys much as I was talking to their father, Mr. Lynn Parker, most of the time about his tobacco. He told me that those boys went out with him every day that there was something to do, and there usually is on a farm, isn't there? But when a man (or boy) enjoys the work, there aren't many jobs that have the advantages of farming. The past two years, we have had exceptions and maybe this year will add a little profit. That would go a long way toward making the job more pleasant.

Randy Patterson's Herford calf is coming along good for the show November 1. Randy was, I home, but his young brother seemed to have all the answers. When I was his age, people were lucky to get "yes" or "no" out of me.

Speaking of cattle shows, 4-H members will be getting a letter in the next few days about the Calloway County 4-H and FFA Dairy Show and the Purchase District Dairy Show. These will be held August 7 in Murray and August 16 in Mayfield. Just in case someone who reads this doesn't receive a letter by Monday, June 7, you should write to us. That is, if you want to show a dairy animal in either or both of these shows. And if you should have a registered animal and the papers are still in another name, they should be transferred sixty days before either show. This is to make sure that the animal you show belongs to you. Of course, if the registration reads "John Doe and Son", and you are that son, you're O.K.; Both of these good ones, so let's dress that helper or cow up a little and get in on the prizes.

The Almo Junior Club is making its contribution to the 4-H Baseball League and one practice was well under way last week when it had to be called on account of rain. The catcher wasn't one unhappy as he had just stopped one with his head. The ball was wet, too, and next time they are putting in a regular catcher

SUBSTITUTE CROPS GROWN

At the suggestion of UK County Agent J. A. Wheeler, some Union county land taken out of production in the allotment program will be put in sorghum grain or sudan grass. Both crops are drought resistant, Wheeler told farmers, and should in some measure be insurance against feed shortages. The county agent is helping farmers locate seed supplies of adapted varieties of these crops. Many Union county farmers will sow soybeans also.

Hazel Route 2 News

JUNE 8, 1954

Been so long since I sent in my scribbles, guess I've forgotten. Have had sickness in the family and been too busy to write.

Today has been a summer day, but have had winter all through May, although crops are all out and worked nicely. Prettiest tobacco around here in a long time.

Been several deaths and lots of sickness since my last letter. Very sorry Mrs. Lloyd Allbritton is so ill. She is such a lovely person, everyone loves her and is sorry she has to suffer so much.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linville, of Royal Oak, Michigan, visited relatives in Kentucky and Tennessee last month.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffen Vaughn of Mayfield, were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Linville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Salmon and sons and Mr. and Mrs. George Linville enjoyed a trip to Ky. Dam last Sunday week. My first visit and Mr. Salmon said quite a lot of difference now and when he worked there nine years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lassiter Hill and family and Miss Dot Farris, went to Eddyville Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grogan and son were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Pauline Wilson and Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Allbritton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hatcher and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson were also Sunday afternoon callers of the Allbrittons.

Mrs. Paul Blalock, Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mrs. Lydia Sue Collins and Mrs. Pat Thompson sponsored a stork shower for Mrs. Edgar St. John in the home of Mrs. Pat Thompson, May 21. About forty ladies and several children attended.

Contests were won by Mrs. J. T. Taylor, Mrs. Alice Stealy and Mrs. George Linville. The dining table was loaded with lovely and useful gifts and after Mrs. St. John opened the gifts and all were passed around and admired.

Refreshments of cookies, pickles, mints and punch were served. All had a very nice time.

Mrs. Stella Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Dee St. John and Mrs. Sally Linn last week.

Misses Susan and Nancy Williams visited Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Simmons, Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Hafford Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Brent Morris and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Curd recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene White and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Hardy

Miller and son over the weekend. Fishing still continues a favorite occupation when the rains stop the farming. These Providence fellows got pretty good awbills, but seems they weren't biting too good Saturday.

Little Bobby Barton spent three weeks with his grandparents the George Linvilles and Aunt Matt Housden while his father was ill. George and John Salmon each visited us a few days since school closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Allbritton, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allbritton, Mrs. Joe H. Curd, Mrs. Pauline Wilson, Mrs. Aubrey Hatcher, Mrs. Stella Wilson, Mrs. Lassiter Hill, Miss Patti Hill, Mrs. Zelma Farris, Miss Dot Farris, Mrs. Harold Grogan and Barry, Mrs. Marvin Swan, Mrs. Buddy Carroll and Diana, Mrs. Hilton Williams and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Salmon and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Barton and son, Mrs. Thula Buchanan, Misses Clara and Mariana Shoemaker, Ann Miller, Patricia Wilson, Mrs. Marvin Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harmon and son, Mr. and Mrs. Boss Laycock, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stom, Mrs. W. D. McKinney and daughter are among the visitors and callers of the past week or so.

Mrs. Jim Allbritton and son and George Linville visited Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin Morgan last Thursday.

Mrs. George Linville visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Salmon and sons last Wednesday night. Bro. Jack London, Mrs. London and son were Thursday afternoon callers of the Salmon's.

Mrs. Amine Morgan and Miss Mayme Morgan were Sunday dinner guests of the Jim Allbrittons.

Mrs. Hampton Curd and Mrs. Lassiter Hill visited Mr. Martha Grogan, Friday afternoon.

Backstairs At White House

By JOHN L. CUTTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House.

President Eisenhower seems to have some doubts as to whether his efforts with brush and canvas can be classified as paintings. His doubt was indicated in a recent exchange of correspondence with David Finley, director of the National Art Gallery.

The President sent Finley a book on "The Secret Formulas and Techniques of the Masters" and expressed particular interest in the problem of mixtures which would retain true colors and tones through the years.

Finley replied to Mr. Eisenhower that four years of research at the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh had produced a synthetic varnish which wouldn't color or turn yellow with age and apparently offers a permanent coating to protect paintings.

The President answered that he was quite interested and, at some future time, may accept Finley's offer to have the gallery's restored vaults "a few of my paintings." He put quotation marks around the word "paintings" in an apparent attempt to indicate that he doubted his efforts really deserve to be called by the name.

The story of how President Eisenhower rifled his desk to find favors for some youthful visitors recently has netted some special gifts for his own three small grandchildren.

It all started with a visit to the White House by the "Teacher of the Year" — Willard Wideberg of Dekalb, Ill. Wideberg was accompanied by his wife and four small children. Mr. Eisenhower ransacked his desk and came up with some gifts—a knife, a photograph, a memo booklet and a silver dollar—for the youngsters.

This week the White House callers included the National Trucking Association's "Driver of the Year" Gene M. Bailey of Denver, Colo. He had heard about the gifts for the Widerberg children and decided to turn the tables.

Bailey brought gifts for the Eisenhower grandchildren—a tractor van for young David, a doll for Barbara and a cuddly little lamb, which winds up and plays "Mary Had A Little Lamb" for baby Susan. The President was caught napping the President as caught short. Now he keeps some small carved figures in his desk drawer for future young visitors.

HOMEMAHER ADAPTS LESSONS TO MOTEL

That the information presented through homemakers clubs can be adapted to meet various situations is frequently noted. Take, for example, the case of Mrs. Frances Horrell of Daviess county, whose husband is the operator-manager of a motel.

As a result of the inspiration received while attending home furnishings training meetings more than a year ago, Mrs. Horrell had the walls of the cabins at the motel finished with random-width pine paneling, colorful draperies were selected to provide a color scheme for each room, electric wiring was changed so that lights are operated through wall switches and lamps, and furniture selection was improved.

Miss Kitty Dodson, home demonstration agent with the University of Kentucky, noted that as a result of the improvements carried out, Mrs. Horrell won first prize in a room improvement contest sponsored by a motel publication.

BISHOP Floyd L. Begin is presented (upper) with a bouquet by Virginia Grau in Bedford, O., a Cleveland suburb, at dedication of parish church and school (lower) as St. Pius X.
